

• Respiratory Therapists •

- HSAS Respiratory Therapists are highly skilled health care professionals who assist physicians with the diagnosis and treatment of lung disorders
- Respiratory Therapists in Saskatchewan work with critically ill patients in neo-natal nurseries, operating rooms, intensive care units, hospital wards and emergency departments
- HSAS Respiratory Therapists play a vital role in the care of patients who experience breathing difficulties related to chronic disease or acute trauma
- Respiratory Therapists treat Saskatchewan Residents suffering from asthma or emphysema as well as premature babies with immature lungs, stroke and heart attack patients and accident victims